Drowning Impact Awareness Month

The summer heat has finally arrived. To escape the heat, many of us turn to swimming pools for relief. A swimming pool is a great way to cool off while enjoying some outdoor fun. But many times, that same swimming pool can become a source of tragedy. So far, Scottsdale has experienced six drowning calls, four of those involved children and two involved adults. Of the six drowning calls, one was fatal.

August is Drowning Impact Awareness Month. During this month, efforts are underway to raise awareness and education about the impact drowning or near-drowning has on the family, friends, emergency responders, medical personnel and the community. Purple ribbons will be displayed on police patrol vehicles as a reminder to always practice water safety.

Drowning can be prevented by practicing the following:

- Adult Supervision – a designated adult needs to be responsible for watching children around water at all times.
- Barriers – a pool fence or other approved barrier should separate children from a pool. Solar covers are not considered a barrier.
- Classes – these include CPR every two years, age appropriate swim lessons and water safety courses.
- Empty ice chests, buckets and inflatable pools when not in use.
- Ensure pool access gates are self-closing and self-latching. Never prop the gate open and check it regularly for any maintenance related issues.

From The Desk Of Commander Scott Popp

As we work our way into August and the beginning of the school year, I want to let you know that we are committed to working with you and the school system to ensure those children attending schools in the City of Scottsdale have a safe environment to live and learn in. Through out the month of August, we will continue to focus traffic enforcement in school zones. Remember, where posted, you must be traveling at 15 M.P.H. or less by the time, you reach the traffic sign designating the beginning of the school zone.

Schools in the Scottsdale Unified School District have a school resource officer assigned to each school to deal with issues on campus. The school resource officers are a great source of information for what is taking place on campus. Sergeant Larry Marmie is the supervisor for schools south of Shea Blvd., and he can be reached at 480-312-8209. Sergeant Mark Brachtel is the SRO supervisor for schools north of Shea Blvd., and he can be reached at 480-312-5477 for information relating to school matters.

The first week of August is also Red Light Running Awareness Week. Officer will focus enforcement on the intersections in the city with the highest collision rates attributed to red light runners. Watch for officers in your area. Help us ensure Scottsdale remains a safe environment for all people to work, live and learn.

- Keep toys, chairs and other items that could be used as a ladder away from the fence
- Keep a telephone nearby to call 9-1-1 in case of an emergency.
- Know where your children are at all times.
- Never swim alone, regardless of age.

Drowning and other water-related incidents can be prevented. Please take the time to educate your children and other family members about water safety. For additional water safety tips, please consider visiting the following websites:

Home Security

Over 60% of the residential burglaries in Scottsdale involve the suspect entering through an open or unlocked door or window.

- Lock the windows and exterior doors to your home.
- Always keep the door between the house and the garage locked.
- Keep the overhead garage door closed at all times.
- Install a Charlie bar, dowel, pin or foot lock to add additional security to arcadia doors.
- Keep exterior lights on overnight.
- Lock vehicles parked inside the garage.
- Use a padlock to secure gates leading into the backyard.
